

John Class had a lifelong fascination with stories, especially biblical stories. Stories somehow always ended at the grave. The promised resurrection of the dead would change this, and he envisioned stories in another dimension. John Class was convinced that the human family, you included, will live again in the Paradise on the good earth and not in a nebulous heaven.

When the Thousand Years Expire is the climax of his resurrection stories series. As the thousand years of Christ's reign draw to a close, an urgent new dilemma comes into view. Two final tests face every person: (1) The separation of the "sheep" from the "goats" and (2) Rebellion when Satan is loosed to deceive the nations. It is only then that the names of those written in the Lamb's Book of Life, having passed all tests of character, will gain entrance as citizens into the New Jerusalem.

He has written five books to cover the experiences of the regenerated human race under Christ's rule—Alive Again, From Ashes to Beauty, Fingers Stained with Evil, Adam and Eve Live Again and When the Thousand Years Expire.
